

KATE NORRIS

data analyst | storyteller | speaker

“Can’t wait to start implementing some of her key tips.”

data analyst turned presentation trainer + data visualisation crusader

co-host of the presentation boss podcast

SIGNATURE TOPIC

The Articulate Expert

Are you struggling to get your results and data presented well? Chances are your data is not clearly showing what you know to be true and you’re struggling to maintain your audience’s attention.

With some practical design knowledge plus storytelling skills, YOU can be memorable, interesting and inspire action.

This talk will equip you with a new toolkit to

- ✓ present your data better
- ✓ put some narrative around your results
- ✓ have your presentations and recommendations acted upon.

Kate is also available to deliver a custom keynote or workshop for any organisation who wants to increase the presentation and/or data visualisation skills of their experts.

ABOUT KATE

Kate is a Presentation Coach, Speaker and Co-founder of Presentation Boss.

A former data-analyst with a passion for presenting technical information, Kate’s specialty is turning results and data into engaging, actionable presentations.

Combined with a refusal to be anything other than her kind-of-dorky self, she knows how to own the stage...like a boss.

SOME REVIEWS...

“She was fantastic! Can’t wait to start implementing some of her key tips. Thanks for coming and sharing your wealth of knowledge with us.”

“Kate is a great presenter! I loved listening to her recently at AVAC!”

“What an awesome job you did too. Have had attendees catching me all afternoon to say how good it was... surprisingly good.”

